

LABOR TO MAKE WAR

Federation Will Keep Close Watch on Congress.

PLAN TO KILL BAD BILLS

Demonstration of Strength and Unity to Be Made During Closing Days of Session, When Unfavorable Measures Are Rushed Through. Bills to Be Killed or Passed.

All national and international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, as well as all the brotherhoods of railway trainmen, are planning to make a concerted attack upon Congress in the shape of a big demonstration before the end of the coming session.

Legislation of every character will be watched closely, and if the plans being at present formulated mature, ten representatives of every one of these international bodies will be in attendance on every day's session during the closing month of the Congress. These men will be carefully selected, and will be the ablest and most competent men in the ranks of organized labor.

Steps will be taken at the convention to be held at Jamestown, beginning November 11, to obtain the direct support and co-operation of that body. It is said the plan will meet with favor from President Gompers, Secretary Morrison, and the various members of the executive board, and that they will lend every assistance, and make every effort toward the success of the movement.

Will Lead Ready Ear. Special attention will be paid to measures in which organized labor has been interested and to those measures which it has been fostering. Several members of the Sixtieth Congress are representatives of organized labor, elected as a result of the campaign of the American Federation of Labor last year, and these will lend ready ear and do everything in their power to foster the movement.

With the advice and coaching of the executive board and officers of the Federation, they will fight hard for labor legislation. Careful plans have been laid, and every effort will be used to defeat all measures which have met with the opposition of the organized labor movement in this country. Every tactic known to legislators to defeat and crush measures that do not meet with their approval will be utilized. The fight will be made as much as possible along party lines, and those who oppose labor legislation will be marked out, and a bitter fight made against them for re-election.

Such a demonstration as is planned would flood the Capitol with labor leaders, the most competent men to be found in the movement. There are more than a hundred international and national labor organizations, and ten men from each would make a force superior to the Central American Army.

It is planned to have the demonstration in the last month of the session, to watch in committee and on the floor of the House and Senate the legislation always pushed through at the end of the session approaches. It is hoped to pass favored measures through in the rush, and to have men on hand to kill all unfavorable bills.

Decide on the Fight. The fight will undoubtedly be centered on the ship subsidy bill, injunction legislation, the convict labor law, and for those two most favored by organized labor, the eight-hour law and the compulsory labor law, which, in effect, resemble and support the child labor law.

Columbia Lodge of Machinists, No. 174, the local lodge, composed of machinists working at the Naval Gun Factory in this city, is preparing to make a hard fight for a new foundry at the local yard, which was lost on a division vote at the moment in the last session of Congress. Columbia Lodge is already assured that should the necessary appropriation for this work not be included in the naval appropriation bill, it will be introduced as a separate item on the floor of the House.

DINNER AND RECEPTION.

Explorer Amundsen Guest of Honor of Washington Scientists.

A. L. Bauer entertained a company of scientists at dinner last night at the Ontario apartment house, the guests of honor being Capt. Roald Amundsen, the famous Norwegian explorer, and his brother, Leon Amundsen. Invited to meet the distinguished guests were Gilbert H. Grosvenor, U. S. Geological Survey, Prof. Willis L. Moore, Prof. Simon Newcomb, Dr. Otis Smith, O. H. Tiltman, and Dr. R. S. Woodward.

A reception in Capt. Amundsen's honor was held in the office of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, at the Ontario apartment immediately following the dinner. More than 100 Washington scientists were present.

BARN GUTTED BY FIRE.

Owner Believes It the Work on an Incendiary.

A stable in the rear of the house of William A. Greer, at 14 Twelfth street northeast, was wrecked by fire last night, resulting in a loss of about $2,000. The owners of the property are of the opinion the conflagration was of incendiary origin.

The fire was discovered a few minutes after 9 o'clock by the occupants of a house adjoining. Francis Greer, eleven years old, ran to a near-by box and sent in an alarm. He hurried back to the burning building and assisted in leading five horses out of the barn. In doing so, the boy was tripped and sprained his ankle.

A quantity of bakers' supplies, some furniture, and several sets of harness were destroyed. Greer believes the fire was started by an incendiary. She said there were no fires or electric light wires about the barn to cause the blaze. The police are investigating.

Robbed by a Woman.

John S. Farley, fireman of No. 12 engine company, reported to the police last night that he was robbed of $10 by an unknown woman in the street. He said the woman approached him and asked that he assist her to her home. Farley consented, and on his way home found that his money was gone.

Fire Prevents Meeting.

Owing to repairs being made to the vestry room of the Eighth Street Temple, made necessary by the recent fire, the ladies' auxiliary of the church will hold no meeting to-morrow. The next meeting will be held Monday afternoon, November 11.

Literary Club Entertained.

Mrs. Julia Widdows entertained the Excelsior Literary Club at her home last Tuesday. A short paper was read by Mrs. Egan, the essayist of the club, on "Queen Hats." The next meeting will be held Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Robinson, 1655 Emerson street northeast.

TELLS OF TRIP ON BIG LINER.

Pittman Pulsifer Entertains Members of Maine Association.

Members of the Maine State Association were tendered an interesting entertainment last evening at W. C. T. U. Hall, 522 Sixth street northwest, by Mr. Pittman Pulsifer, who read a paper entitled "A Trip on the Lusitania."

He gave a detailed description of the voyage to and from Liverpool and gave his hearers an insight into the workings of the monster ocean liner.

Several members of the association contributed musical numbers, and Miss H. Ray Woodman recited a poem entitled "Lusitania."

TAKES ANOTHER RAIN TRAMP.

President Walks Home from Chevy Chase in Downpour.

Rain fell for ten hours here yesterday, and a short time before the skies cleared the President drove out to Chevy Chase, a distance of five or six miles from the White House. Dismissing his coachman, he walked back to town at a rapid clip.

The rain ceased just before he reached the White House.

UNCONSCIOUS FROM POISON.

Sisters Found in Basement of L. D. Smoot Residence.

Case Regarded as Mysterious by Police—Had Entertained Company in Kitchen.

Bertha and Alice Shields, colored, sisters, aged twenty-five and thirty years respectively, servants in the family of Lloyd D. Smoot, one of the District surveyors, were found unconscious in the basement of the Smoot home, at 3235 R street northwest, at 10:30 o'clock last night, apparently suffering from the effects of poison.

They were hurried to the Georgetown University Hospital, where the doctors, after working over them for several hours without restoring them to consciousness, stated their case was a most mysterious one. Although they were undoubtedly suffering from some kind of poison, the doctors were unable to say after using the stomach pump, what its nature was. At an early hour this morning both women were still unconscious and in a critical condition.

At the Smoot home it was said that half an hour before the sisters were found unconscious they were entertaining some colored company in the kitchen and were heard laughing. When found, one of the sisters was fully dressed, while the other was nearly naked. The police of the Third precinct are investigating.

No bottles or receptacles of any kind that might have contained poison were found to afford a clue as to how the drugs were administered.

FERARI'S TRAINED ANIMALS.

United Shows Now Exhibiting at Northeast Carnival Grounds.

One of the main attractions of the Jamestown Exposition, and one extensively advertised by the exposition management was the Ferari Trained Wild Animal Exhibition.

During the past few days these two monster enterprises have been consolidated and are now located at Fifteenth and H streets northeast, this city, where two performances are given every week day. Included in the attractions most prominent are: Princess Pauline, the peerless, with her cage of mixed animals—lions, tigers, jaguars, leopards, and pumas. In this collection is the world-famous clown lion Sampson.

There are also in the animal show such well-known trainers and handlers as Robert McPherson, Leon Sassman, Sgt. Richard Bass, Arthur Connolly, Prof. Ricardo, and La Belle Salica, the doing of which is in the cage with four immense South African lions. Other attractions furnished are Mamie, whose wonderful flame dancing has electrified the amusement world; Creative, the talker of masterpieces of the World's Fair at St. Louis; Salome, or the dance of the seven veils; the Hindoo Theater, the Katzenjammer Castle, and Automatic Vaudeville.

PLAN WORKING WELL.

Comptroller Ridgely Expresses Satisfaction with Note Scheme.

Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely yesterday expressed his satisfaction with the working out of the plan to increase the volume of note circulation. It is his opinion that the amount of circulation to be issued daily for some days to come will be about $1,500,000. That in round numbers was the amount provided for yesterday. It was stated, and that provided for on Friday was close to $1,800,000.

An interesting fact was brought out at the Treasury yesterday. The per capita circulation of money in the United States, as shown for the month of October, increased from $23.46 to $23.22. The estimated population upon which the per capita circulation was figured is $8,647,000 persons. November 1, last, the per capita circulation was $23.08.

SIFT ALLEGED HARRIMAN DEAL.

Georgia Commissioners Want Light on Central Railroad.

Atlanta, Nov. 2.—Bent on sifting rumors that E. H. Harriman has bought the Georgia Central Railroad, the State railroad commission has summoned Presidents Hanson and Finley, respectively of the Central and Southern, to tell who really owns the former line.

The commissioners don't explain why they think Finley knows Gov. Smith has signed a petition from the State jobbers to permit the railroads to raise passenger rates, declaring the transportation company is behind the request.

Death Penalty Abolished.

The Republic of Uruguay has notified the Senate and House of Representatives of the death penalty for crime has been abolished and the indefinite term of imprisonment substituted, the maximum being forty and the minimum thirty years.

Company E Will Smoke.

Company E, Second Regiment, District of Columbia National Guard, the Urell Rifles, is to hold a smoker and camp fire Wednesday evening, November 13, in Costello's Hall. Capt. Edward H. Brian, popular commander of Company E, will preside. He has always held the esteem of his men, and is a general favorite.

Gets Order of Black Eagle.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Emperor William has conferred on Baron Marschal von Biebertstein, the German Ambassador at Constantinople, who was head of the delegation of Germany at The Hague peace conference, the Order of the Black Eagle, the highest Prussian decoration in recognition of his services at The Hague.

VANDALISM AT GRAVE

Desecrate the Tomb of Oom Paul Kruger.

TRY TO STEAL MARBLE BUST

Racial Hatred Believed Responsible for Mutilation of Statue of Former President of the Transvaal Republic—Police Guard Is Placed About Tomb as Result of Depredation.

Johannesburg, Nov. 2.—A most painful sensation has been created here by the discovery of the desecration of the grave of ex-President Kruger, in Pretoria Cemetery.

The white marble bust of the ex-President had been torn from its granite base and was lying on its face a yard away from the foot of the grave. The shoulders are chipped and the nose is broken.

The tombstone of the grandchild of the ex-President, which was in the same plot, was slightly damaged, a statuette of an angel, which stood at the head of the grave, being knocked from its pedestal. The two adjoining graves were also disturbed.

It is not believed that the act was one of racial vindictiveness. The circumstances seem to point to an attempted theft of the bust, which it was probably intended to retain pending the offer of a reward for its recovery. It is conjectured that the figure on the child's tomb was knocked over while the desecrator or desecrators were endeavoring to remove the bust of Mr. Kruger, which is very heavy.

Since the desecration of the grave of Prince Christian Victor, in September, 1904, the police have been accustomed to pay a visit nightly to the graves of the ex-President and the prince. The whole machinery of the police force has been set in motion to discover the authors of the outrage.

WOMAN DENOUNCES LAWSON.

Declares She Followed His Stock Tips and Lost $42,000.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Thomas W. Lawson was the central figure in a sensational scene in the main dining-room at Young's Hotel this afternoon, during which he was subjected to a violent tirade at the hands of a well-dressed woman, who asserted in loud language that she had lost $42,000 through following Lawson's tips on the stock market.

Mr. Lawson was just sitting down to his lunch when the woman sailed up to his table. She denounced Lawson, and declared that she had lost the money because she had believed in his advice.

Mr. Lawson issued a statement to-night in which he intimates that the woman did not know what she was talking about.

CLARKSON LEAVES LONDON.

Briton Who Eloped with Helen Maloney on Way to Paris.

London, Nov. 2.—Samuel Clarkson, the young Briton reported to have eloped from New York with Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Standard Oil millionaire, has disappeared from London again, and it is said he is on his way back to Paris.

The Vatican has been informally asked, it is known here, whether there is any hope of papal assistance in freeing the matrimonial tangle in which her name has been involved.

The answer is said to have been returned that, as a preliminary to any action, the young woman must solemnly engage to live apart from her husband, or husbands, until the Pope decides such questions as may be raised, and that consideration of the matter may continue anywhere from six months to ten years.

POPE TO WELCOME GYMNASTS.

International Congress Arranged for Next Year at Rome.

Rome, Nov. 2.—The Pope has consented to preside over the international congress of gymnastics which is to be held in 1908 in the Belvedere courtyard of the Vatican. The congress is being arranged by the Federation of Catholic Italian Sporting Clubs, to whom the Pope has addressed an autograph letter encouraging and praising their initiative and imparting the apostolic blessing. It is expected that all Catholic athletic societies throughout the world will send representatives to Rome.

The organizing committee, in announcing the forthcoming congress, state that the reunion in Rome has nothing to do with politics. It constitutes simply an act of homage and filial devotion to the sovereign pontiff, who appreciates and encourages physical education.

The exact date for the meeting of the congress has not been fixed. It will depend altogether on whether the present anti-clerical movement has subsided.

KILLED BY KNOCKOUT DROPS.

Autopsy Reveals Cause of Death of Rich Boston Clubman.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—Medical Examiner McGrath to-day settled all doubt as to what caused the death recently at Bagota, N. J., of Walter Farnsworth Baker, the rich Boston clubman, by reporting that enough chloroform was found in his stomach to have killed two men.

Chloroform is the main ingredient of "knockout drops," and the physician's verdict confirmed the suspicion aroused by Baker's dying words that he was poisoned at a resort in New York.

CHINESE STONE MISSIONARIES.

Two Scandinavian Women Attacked by Anti-foreign Element.

Hongkong, Nov. 2.—The Scandinavian mission in the district of Nantoh has been attacked by the anti-foreign element of the population. The missionaries, Misses Wendell and Erickson, were stoned by the Chinese, who alleged that native women were forced to become Christians and were kept for immoral purposes. The magistrate at Nantoh succeeded in restoring order.

Wounds Husband; Kills Self.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 2.—In a fit of temporary insanity to-day Mrs. Mary Hickey, wife of Patrick Hickey, of the Apalachicola, cut her husband's throat with a razor and then committed suicide. The Hickeys were prominent and wealthy residents of Apalachicola and connected with some of the most prominent families in that section of the State.

DEFENDS GOOD TRUSTS.

Prof. Gore a Believer in Publicity as Cure for Economic Ills.

Offering a defense of the "good" trusts, and condemning the bad combinations of capital, Prof. James Howard Gore, of the faculty of the George Washington University, sees in publicity the real means for curtailing economic ills and righting business conditions. His views, which were delivered before the National Trust Conference in Chicago, are printed in full in the George Washington University Bulletin, which made its appearance yesterday.

Prof. Gore was one of the delegates to the conference appointed by the District of Columbia.

"There is at hand an efficacious means for putting an end to this economic rapine," said Prof. Gore. "It needs no legislation to call it into existence nor new machinery to make it effective. It lies in the extension of the functions of our very excellent Census Bureau, coupled with the Bureau of Statistics, Bureau of Corporations, and Bureau of Manufactures, by which the American people, as consumers and potential producers, can be informed as to the price of materials, cost of production, and selling prices demanded."

"If the difference between costs and prices assume, in the minds of those who know, undue proportions, two results will inevitably follow: A curtailment of consumption, and the inducing of idle capital to embark upon a business that seems so promising."

In connection with his exposition of the causes that have led to the present anxiety toward all corporations, Prof. Gore sees in State's rights a direct menace to American business growth.

Direct charges of dishonest conduct are leveled at certain State's attorneys, who, Prof. Gore charges, "tevy a species of blackmail by compromising claims (in the courts) for $5,000,000 with $300."

In a protest against the hounding of the honest corporations, Prof. Gore condemns the "lynching spirit that animates legislators to condemn corporations without indictment and suppress them by indictments instead of trial."

YOUNG SCHURZ MEETS PRINCE.

Presentation Marks German Condemnation of Father's Views.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The presentation to the crown prince of the young American lawyer, Carl Schurz, at the university, on Wednesday, when Exchange Profs. Hadley and Schofield began their academic work, was especially interesting to those acquainted with the career of the young man's father in America. The introduction to the crown prince meant that the Hohenzollerns had condoned his father's radical activities, or, at any rate, did not intend to extend the imperial hostility to the son.

It is, perhaps, not generally known that the late Prince Bismarck tried to induce Carl Schurz to return to Germany by the promise of an important office. Mr. Schurz refused, on the ground that, knowing his own character and opinions, he felt sure that he could not remain a month in office.

Japanese Would Welcome Fleet.

New York, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans told the Lotus Club, at the dinner the club gave in his honor this evening, that he did not believe that anybody wanted to stop the fleet from going around the Horn, but that, if anybody did, they'd have a time doing it. "So far as I am concerned," he said, "it would be a great pleasure to take the fleet right to Yokohama, for I know the Japanese. I have lived among them, and I know the hearty welcome we would receive."

Say Sultan Has Declared Holy War.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A special to the Matin from Morocco City says that Mulai Hafid, brother of Sultan Abd-El-Aziz, despairing of French support, has declared a holy war.

Nobleman's Daughter a Cab Driver.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Frau von Papp, the daughter of a Hungarian nobleman, and the widow of a great landowner, on falling into evil times, turned to account the knowledge she had acquired for sport in the days of her prosperity. She has become a Berlin's first woman motor cab driver. She passed a severe police test and will now wear the regulation blue uniform and white peaked cap of the Berlin motor cabbies.

THIRTEEN STATES HOLD ELECTIONS

provides that the "Con-Con" shall turn over its franchises at the expiration of twenty years; makes seven tickets for a quarter a maximum, instead of fixed fare; provides for a readjustment by experts in October, 1908, and again in 1919, on a basis of 6 per cent on the actual earnings, and imposes on the company something like a million dollars' worth of improvements for each of the next five years.

Because of the usual belief in voters that business methods pay best, when honestly conducted, it is anticipated that the vote will go to Burton, which will mean his election by some 5,000, while Johnson is claiming all the way from 20,000 to 40,000 majority.

FIGHT IN COLUMBUS.

In Columbus, Ohio, the whole local campaign is whether or not there shall be an open city, and, practically, the same thing is true in Cincinnati. Mayor Badger, of Columbus, was elected on a liberal platform, but immediately after taking office, closed up the town. The candidate of the Democrats is Mr. Dunham, whose platform is "dry," while the "wets" are represented by Mr. Bond, Republican.

In Cincinnati, there is a triangular contest, Dempsey, Democrat, being opposed by Frank Pfaff, elected vice mayor two years ago on the same ticket with Dempsey, and by Col. Leopold Markbreit, the veteran German editor, the nominee of the Republicans. Last week the betting among politicians was even on Pfaff.

Henry M. Whitney, ruled by the ballot-law commission the regular Democratic nominee for governor in Massachusetts, stands for tariff revision, and there are ten tickets in the field. Gen. Bartlett having been selected by a "rump" convention, ousted by the commission, is in the race as an independent, and the Independents, according to politicians, are that Gov. Guild will be re-elected because of the breaks in the ranks of the opposition.

Judge Austin L. Crothers is the Democratic nominee in Maryland for governor, pitted against George R. Gaither, of Baltimore. On election day the Democrats will hold a senatorial primary election, the candidates pledging themselves to vote for the man receiving the most votes for senator. Two senators will be elected by the new house of delegates and a half of the State senate. They will be elected to succeed to the unexpired term of the late Senator Arthur Poe Gorman and Senator Rayner. Gov. Warfield, who appointed Senator William Pinkney Whyte upon the death of Mr. Gorman, is one of the candidates for the Senate.

In Delaware, the women are taking a great interest in the attempt to save the State to prohibition. Wilmington will be the scene of their hottest fight, and at the eighty-nine voting places there women workers will keep close tab on the "wets." The "wets" are claiming the city by from 4,000 to 8,000, but are not making such claims throughout the State. No officers will be elected, the fight being on the local option question.

Frank Katzenbach, Democratic candidate for governor in New Jersey, against John Franklin Fort, has recently received a letter from Grover Cleveland, giving the candidate his support, and the Democrats are claiming a victory.

Pennsylvania's Struggle.

In Pennsylvania, State treasurer is the office for which the warmest fight is being made, and that has been listless. In addition, judges of common pleas courts will be elected in Philadelphia, which will be a number of constitutional tickets. In Nebraska, a railroad commissioner and two regents will be elected. The local campaigns in Salt Lake City and San Francisco are also of particular interest this year. There are four tickets in Salt Lake City—the American, or anti-Mormon party have made nominations for offices, as have the Democrats, Socialists, and Republicans. In San Francisco, the Democrats and good government forces have nominated the acting mayor, who is opposed by a Republican as well as a Union Labor candidate. The Socialist Labor party also has tickets in Massachusetts, Kentucky, and New Jersey.

Following is a partial list of the nominations for the principal offices:

In Various States.

KENTUCKY. Democratic—Governor, R. W. Hager; lieutenant governor, Seth Trimble; attorney general, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, Hubert Vreeland. Republican—Governor, Augustus E. Wilson; lieutenant governor, William H. Cox; attorney general, James Heathitt, and secretary of State, Benjamin L. Bruer.

MASSACHUSETTS. Democratic—Governor, L. L. Piccott; lieutenant governor, P. H. Fields; attorney general, Wayne Cooper, and secretary of State, C. A. Singer. Socialist—Governor, Charles Andrews; lieutenant governor, Lucian V. Rile; attorney general, F. B. Seels, and secretary of State, Walter Landier. Socialist-Labor—Governor, J. H. Arnold; lieutenant governor, James Doyle; attorney general, L. Kleinhaus, and secretary of State, Albert Schmutz.

MARYLAND.

Democratic—Governor, Austin L. Crothers; comptroller, John S. Draper; secretary of State, William M. Olin, and attorney general, Dana Malone. Independent Citizens—Governor, Henry M. Whitney.

MISSISSIPPI. Democratic—Governor, Henry M. Whitney; lieutenant governor, George A. Schofield, and secretary of State, John Z. E. Charles. Anti-Mormon—Governor, Charles W. Bartlett; lieutenant governor, James T. Cahill; secretary of State, Thomas T. Riley, and attorney general, Harvey H. Pratt.

INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE—Governor, Thomas L. Higgins; lieutenant governor, E. Gerry Brown; secretary of State, Deum J. Rigg, and attorney general, William N. Osgood.

PROHIBITION—Governor, Hervey S. Crowell; lieutenant governor, Robert Lawrence; secretary of State, John W. Bingham, and attorney general, Allen Coffin.

SOCIALIST—Governor, John W. Brown; lieutenant governor, Robert Lawrence; secretary of State, John W. Bingham, and attorney general, Allen Coffin.

NEBRASKA. Republican—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

DEMOCRAT—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

PROHIBITION—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

NEW JERSEY. Republican—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

DEMOCRAT—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

PROHIBITION—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

NEW YORK. Republican—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.

DEMOCRAT—Governor, John Franklin Fort; lieutenant governor, John E. Hendrick, and secretary of State, John E. Hendrick.
